BLOOD CANCER INCREASES IN ALL AGE GROUPS

New York—Leukemia, cancer of the blood producing system, is a growing health problem in the United States. The American Cancer Society says that the reported leukemia death rate has increased considerably in the last quarter of a century. This disease now takes about 11,000 lives annually, nearly 2,000 of them children under the age of 15.

The increase has taken place in both males and females, especially in the older age groups. In 1939 the leukemia death rate among males of all ages was 2.5 for each 100,000 population. It climbed steadily to 7.4 in 1956. Among females of all ages the increase was from 1.8 to 5.1 for the same period. A part of this increase may be due to improvements in diagnosis of the disease.

There are two classifications of leukemia, acute and chronic. Acute is characterized by rapid onset and progress of the disease. Chronic is slow progressing. With acute leukemia there is a much shorter survival period than with chronic. Acute leukemia is much more common in children under the age of 15 than in adults. More men are attacked by leukemia than women.

Now there is no cure for leukemia in humans. Experimental chemotherapeutic agents have been developed that prolong the life of those stricken by leukemia beyond anyone's expectations a decade ago. And today an army of scientists is at work in laboratories and hospitals across the country attempting to determine the cause of leukemia and find a way to cure it.

Current grants by the American Cancer Society for leukemia research alone represents an expenditure of about $425,000, an amount exceeded only by Federal Government grants through the National Cancer Institute. The Society is supporting some 30 specific leukemia research projects concerned with all aspects of the disease, its cause, its course, its cure.

LIONS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS AT MEET HERE

New Officers of the Elba Lions Club were installed at the regular meeting last week with J. D. Lowery, Zone Chairman, as installing officer.

Those present were: President, Neil Hutto; First Vice-President, Ellis Brazelton; Second Vice-President, Sam Casey; third vice president, Robert Cooper; Secretary treasurer, Leroy V. Miller. Lowery was presented with a plaque in recognition of his services to the club.

Dr. Warr Named To Optometric Groups

Appointment of Dr. E. M. Warr of Elba to several committees of the Alabama Optometric Association has been announced by Dr. Robert Pharr of Attalla, current Association president.

Dr. Warr, who is vice president of the Association, will serve as a member of the Public Relations Committee.

He has also been selected as chairman of the "Optometrist of the Year" committee by the Association president. Serving with him on this committee are Dr. T. A. Singletree, Dothan as vice chairman, and members include Dr. D. B. Sneed, Dr. R. L. Tindell, and Dr. Claude J. Adams, also of Dothan.

Who Could Foresee Such Progress?

Benjamin Franklin, Printer and Statesman, was one of the most forward-looking men of his era. Yet even he signing the Declaration of Independence, 182 years ago, could hardly have foreseen the spectacular growth and progress of the nation born that day. Nevertheless, the promise of that glorious future was implicit in the Declaration, itself.

Equality for all, the opportunity for each to strive and build and achieve to the utmost of his abilities, it is upon these principles that America has grown great and grown strong, and remained forever free!

UNEMPLOYMENT PAY DECREASES IN THIS STATE

Chairman, Dept. of Journalism University of Mississippi

Occasionally we run across a business man who says, "Sure I believe in advertising, but I just don't have anything to advertise."

"If that is true, how do you stay in business?" we have been tempted to ask.

In answer, the business man begins to list dozens of virtues of his place. He mentions his location, his special services, his quality merchandise, or the friendly, personal service.

Actually, just a partial listing of such claims would make a fine advertisement for a store or service. If the good qualities of a business can be described verbally to a few people, they can be described just as effectively to thousands of people through advertising.

Every place of business has something to advertise. The very fact that it is operating indicates that it is unique in some way, and that some people prefer it to other places.

Every merchant can discover unique and special features he has to offer. These are the things he can sell best through advertising. And he can be sure that many potential customers do not know about his unique and special features unless he is a consistent advertiser.

A successful grocery store in South Alabama looks and operates just as it did 75 years ago. It advertises the fact, featuring such items as turnip greens and fatback. The advertising works because the old-time atmosphere is something unique. However, without the use of clever advertising, the store would have passed from the scene with cracker-barrels and flour flower.

Don't dispose of a garden hose just because it's springing a few leaks. Add more holes, attach it to the faucet, and you have an excellent lawn sprinkler.

DALEVILLE AND JUDGE HARPER TO BE HONORED

A historical marker commemorating Daleville and William Harper, one of the pioneers of the area, was unveiled at Dedication Services Sunday, June 29, at 2 p.m. at the Daleville Methodist Church.

Daleville was the county seat of Dale County from 1831 to 1841, when it included Coffee, Groves and a part of Houston county as well as the present Dale County.

William Harper was one of the pioneers of the area and served as probate judge and more of his descendants live in and near Elba than anywhere else. Three of Judge Harper's children, George, Aaron and Amanda Cole, settled in the northwestern section of Coffee County.

He resigned as probate judge of Dale County when Coffee County was created in December, 1841, because he lived in that part of Dale County which became Coffee County and he did not wish to change his residence.

All his descendants were given special recognition at the dedication ceremonies.

Business To Close For Fourth of July

MOST DANGER ON FOURTH IS FROM A "FIFTH"

CHICAGO—A fifth can be deadly on the Fourth, and even two cocktails are dangerous if you drive within three hours after drinking them.

Fourth of July celebrations were given that reminder today by the National Safety Council, which points out that the average person needs at least three hours to eliminate the alcohol in two cocktails.

Worse Than Drunk

Social drinkers are a greater menace than commonly believed, the Council said. They greatly outnumber the obviously intoxicated driver. And Council studies show the drinking, but not necessarily drunk, driver is a big factor in holiday traffic tolls.

Alcohol, even in small quantities, impairs the critical judgment needed by drivers, these studies show. And two much as wearing dark sun glasses at night. What's more, coffee does not offset the effect. Only time can eliminate alcohol from the blood stream. The throttle and the bottle are the arch villains in the nation's holiday traffic death toll, the Council said.

Half Due to Drinking

An analysis of highway fatalities during both summer and winter holidays showed that about half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents had been drinking. And speed was a factor in more than 7 out of 10 fatal holiday traffic accidents.

Forty-five million motor vehicles are expected to be on the nation's roads over the three-day Fourth of July holiday, so drivers will need to be especially alert and responsive if they are to avoid trouble, the Council said. "If drivers avoid drinking and speeding, the highways will be much safer for themselves and others."

GEORGE ADKINSON

George Adkinson, 54, of Arlton, died at his home Tuesday, June 24, after a short illness. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Durward Adkinson of Arlton and Lavaughn Adkinson of Troy; one daughter, Mrs. James Sammons of Mobile; three brothers, David Adkinson of Arlton; Frank Adkinson of Forest City, N. C.; Dan Adkinson of Flushing, Ohio; six sisters, Mrs. O. J. Mooneyham of Forest City, N. C.; Mrs. Charles McMillan of Spartanburg, S. C.; Mrs. Douglas Borders of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Woods Baxter of Clio; Mrs. Henry Blackmore of Flushing, Ohio; Mrs. Nell Chapman of Tampa, Fla.; three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday from the Bethel Assembly of God Church in Arlton with the Rev. John Caperton, the Rev. Otis Cobb and the Rev. John Christian officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Fails To Prove Jet Set Barn in Fames

A farmer of near Arlton has lost a damage suit against the U. S. government on a claim that his barn was set afire when a U. S. jet plane broke the sound barrier overhead.

Jacob J. Cook, who lives in the Pleasant Ridge community near Arlton, claimed $7,000 from the government, but U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson in Montgomery said that the plane had set the fire.

Cook said he was lying in bed last January, when he heard two explosions. He ran outside and his barn was afire and a jet plane flying overhead.

A revival will start at Curtis Baptist Church Sunday, July 6, with Rev. Earl Hall, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Opp in charge. Services will be held at 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. James Martin will lead song services. Rev. Bernie Reese is pastor.

Fourth of July will be celebrated here tomorrow with the closing of stores and other places of business while most residents plan to spend the day in outings of various recreational. No special program is planned.

Stores will observe regular Thursday afternoon closing and remain closed all day Friday and reopen Saturday morning. The plant of Dorsey Trailers is shut down all this week for vacation.

Culver Post, American Legion and Auxiliary, have postponed their regular meeting from Thursday, this week, to Thursday, next week.

The Girls Division of the City Recreation Program will not function during this week.

Although no special program is planned, there is expected to be the usual fireworks by individuals, primarily firecrackers by children as indicated by sales in the stores. The day is not expected to be a quiet one.

INCREASED EGG PRODUCTION IN SO. EAST SEEN

A continued increase in egg production in the Southeast to help a number of states attain self-sufficiency in this respect is forecast by poultry experts. Latest state to establish a goal is Georgia, where the egg industry is making plans to increase the volume of local eggs consumed by its residents to 80 per cent.

Crop Reporting Service figures show that states in the Southeast have been increasing egg production by a much larger percentage than the number of laying hens has increased in recent years. In Georgia, for example, 524 million eggs were produced by about 5,150,000 layers 16 years ago. But last year, 1,312,000,000 eggs were produced by fewer than 1,500,000 additional layers.

The increases are attributed to gains in the productivity of the layers. Most poultry experts agree that the use of antibiotics in rations for laying hens gives responses in better egg production and feed efficiency in flocks of birds in poor health dramatic results have been obtained through antibiotics, such as Aureomycin.

It has been disclosed that experiments under practical farm conditions in the Southeast where clinical or sub-clinical disease was prevalent showed that the high-level feeding of Aureomycin, a wide-spectrum antibiotic, resulted in sharply improved egg production.

The advantages of antibiotic feeding did not end there, however. Other impressive results included: (1) an improved feed-to-egg ratio; (2) improved livability and reduced culling; (3) increased egg size; (4) increased hatchability; (5) increased livability of the progeny; and (6) a larger profit return per hen housed.

Most authorities agree that the best time to give antibiotics is in times of stress. It also has been found that antibiotics are highly beneficial during periods of very high temperatures, such as prevail in summer over much of the Southeast.

REVIVAL AT CURTIS
A revival will start at Curtis Baptist Church Sunday, July 6, with Rev. Earl Hall, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Opp in charge. Services will be held at 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. James Martin will lead song services. Rev. Bernie Reese is pastor.

FIVE FFA BOYS ARE HONORED AT STATE MEET

Development of outstanding farming programs and demonstrated leadership abilities brought top honors last week to five Alabama FFA members at the Twenty-ninth Annual Alabama Future Farmers of America Convention in Auburn.

Leland Helton, an 18-year-old Escambia County farm youth and Altmore FFA member, was named State Star Farmer of Alabama. P. N. Farrington, Jr., Dadeville; Douglas Wilcox, Liberty; Harold Phillips, Stevenson and Wayne Curtis, Troy, were named District Star Farmers. These five FFAs were selected from more than 280 Alabama FFA members who received the State Farmer Degree, the highest degree awarded by the Alabama FFA Association.

In recognition of their outstanding achievements in farming and rural youth leadership, Alabama's Ford tractor and implement dealers presented them with awards ranging from a new Ford tractor to a State Farm FFA Scholarship. U. S. Savings Bonds for the four District Star Farmers.

Young Helton's farming program has grown from only 3 acres of corn, 2 acres of soybeans and 2 dairy cows in 1954, to a program of 30 acres of cotton, 74 acres of wheat, 20 acres of corn and 12 head of beef cattle. From his profits he has bought cattle and equipment valued at more than $4,000. He also has a sizeable farm in a 200 acre farm he and his father purchased on a partnership basis in 1957.

All of the 5 youths were selected for the coveted honors because they had made the greatest progress toward becoming successfully established in farming and had demonstrated leadership in school, community and FFA activities.

CARE OF ROSES SHOULD GO ON AFTER BLOOMS

Auburn—The rose is often called the queen of flowers, and like a queen, it needs plenty of attention.

Some people think roses need care only when blooming. But according to API Extension Ornamental Horticulturist Troy Keeble, the common rose disease and insects don't wait until the flowers bloom to attack. Concerned only with the leaves, these pests weaken the plants and make them much less likely to bear good blossoms later in the summer and fall.

This is a good time, said Keeble, to apply or renew mulches on the ground under rose bushes. These ground covers are most often made of peat moss but can also be made of old straw or strawy manure which is free from weed seed and grain. The function of mulch is twofold: It protects the ground from rapid evaporation in hot weather, therefore helping to maintain good moisture conditions around the roots; and it helps prevent black spot infection, which is spread from leaf to leaf by the splashing of raindrops on the soil.

A practice which many growers find well worth the trouble, he continued, is regular spraying with appropriate materials. Since some of the insects pests that attack the rose are so small they are seldom observed, it's best not to wait until you find them at work. Assume that sooner or later they'll be around, and spray before you find damaging evidence. Be sure that the spray touches the underside of the leaves as well as the top side, said Keeble.

Tossed green salad is excellent for outdoor meals. French dressing should be added right at serving time to prevent wilting of salad ingredients.

this is no Steeple!

The Army calls it "Nike," an anti-aircraft weapon that is vital to our defense.

And you and I bought it! Yes—gladly!

Every week a part of our earnings is withheld for our nation's needs. In addition, many of us buy a bond a month to invest in America's strength. We want forever to be free. That's why we bought "Nike."

But a land born of the Pilgrim's devotion needs more than rockets to defend its soul. America needs steeples—steeples strong and sure in their upward aim! It needs steeples that call men and women to the quest for God's peace . . . that lead boys and girls in the search for God's way.

And as many as are conscious of this deep, spiritual need find joy in GIVING to our churches . . . regularly . . . generously.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LIVESTOCK AND POULTRY FARM TO GROW HERE

Atlanta—Farmers in the Southeast will produce more livestock and poultry products this year than last, experts forecast.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta predicts in the current issue of its "Monthly Review" that "Output of livestock and poultry products should rise in response to favorable prices and a gain in production efficiency."

Coupled with an anticipated stepped-up crop output, this may improve the cash position of farmers in much of the region in 1958.

Livestock and poultry production has continued to rise in several southern states for the past few years. For example, the Georgia Crop Reporting Service discloses that cash farm income from livestock on Georgia farms set a new high record of $354,223,000 in 1957, 13 per cent above the 1956 income with commercial broilers accounting for $150,335,000, or 42 per cent of the total.

The Federal Reserve Bank says there are several factors involved in the anticipated rise in livestock and poultry this year. One is that farmers have herds and flocks in a volume almost matching or exceeding a year ago. It adds that per unit output for laying hens, milk cows, broilers and beef cattle is being increased.

A second factor in the expected rise is higher prices, particularly in comparison to feed costs. The bank says that farm marketing of some livestock and poultry products are lagging thus far this year because of the curtailment of milk, eggs and beef by the cold, wet weather in the late winter and spring. Unless unforeseen developments occur, this lag should be overcome.

The Monthly Review points out: "Not all communities will expect rise in total farm output this year. As in 1957, farmers' participation in the Soil Bank will dampen crop marketings in some places, especially Mississippi and South Georgia."

JAPAN "BUYS AMERICAN" IN ALABAMA AND IN ALL THE 48 STATES

A Survey Shows How Each State Benefited from Trade with Japan in 1957

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A report provocatively entitled, "Japan Buys American in All 48 States" has just been released by the United States-Japan Trade Council.

The 12-page report of charts, graphs and text summarizes an exhaustive state-by-state survey. The survey's purpose was to estimate how much "each" of the states shared immediately in the benefits from the $1,225,000,000 worth of commodities exported by the United States to Japan in 1957.

Texas with $105 million worth of commodities was the top exporter, but every other state made substantial shipments (see map).

The report points out that, although Japan is fairly well known as our best customer second only to Canada, not many Americans realize the nature and value of exports to Japan from their own state.

The 10 chief commodities exported to Japan in 1957 were (in millions of dollars): Iron and steel mill products $241.1, Raw cotton $217.4, Industrial machinery $121, Grains $118, Soybeans $85.4, Chemicals $59.7, Petroleum & products $59.1, Bituminous coal $35.9, Copper & products $45.4, Chemicals $39.7, and other animal oils $19.6.

In releasing these figures, the Trade Council made two important points. First, that Japan's U. S. purchases have shot up dramatically by 200 per cent since 1950—and not simply in commodities but in all types of products; second, that Japan in 1957 bought more than twice as much from us as it sold to the United States.

tatoes, and Irish potatoes, too, have been outlawed in Ohio. Complaints voiced frequently by housewives are that the coloring taints the inner portions, and the hands, and the kitchen equipment. Laws of the state stipulate that the coloring of the potatoes is an adulteration process.

VINES PROVIDE QUICK SHADE AS TREES AWAITED

Auburn—Need some quick shade for one of those frequently used spots around the house, such as the carport, patio, or outdoor fireplace?

Then try one of the quick growing annual vines, suggests Horticulture Extension Service. Only one of the vines, called "Knee Deep," can be trained to any yard; they are allowing the week.

Millers Select Co. and Queen

Carmella Gibbs, formerly of Brunswick, Georgia and Jacksonville, Florida, has been chosen to reign as Queen in the launching of Corn Week scheduled for next fall. The annual celebration of Corn Week will extend from October 5 through October 11, take an enthusiastic part.

The new Queen's favorite recipe? She says, "back in Jacksonville our day wasn't complete without at least one serving of delicious hot corn bread or muffins."

Here is the way she prefers to have it made:

2 cups Self-Rising Corn Meal
1 egg
1 1/2 cup sweet milk or
1/2 cup evaporated milk and 1/4 cup water
3 lbs. melted shortening

Set oven control to 450° for oven to preheat. Mix together beaten egg, milk and fat. Add all at once to the Self-Rising Corn Meal. Stir just to moisten and blend all ingredients. Pour the batter into greased shallow pan 9" x 9". Bake for 15 to 20 minutes.

Miss Gibbs emphasized the importance of using self-rising corn meal because, as she said, "It makes baking corn bread quick and easy. I have no failures; and I got the same fine quality of corn and texture every time."

Some of the favorite quick-growing vines in Alabama are gourds, morning glory, balloon vine, scarlet runner bean, coral vine, clock vine, and moon flowers. Annual vines are planted after soil preparation similar to that for annual trees or shrubs, pointed out the specialist. And their flowers and foliage effects are as splendid as those of any more permanent planting.

Vines can be planted now or at any time to the middle of July, he added.

LEGAL LIMITS FIXED IN USE OF 'BARBECUE'

Auburn—Would you say that meat oven baked or roasted in barbecue sauce may be labeled "barbecue"?

According to A. W. Jones, API Extension marketing specialist, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says "no." The USDA's Meat Inspection Division recently ruled that meats subject to their inspection, products which cross state lines in marketing, have to be cooked in true home-barbecue fashion, that is, by direct heat of a hardwood or coal fire, if they are to be labeled "barbecue."

Since 1908, said Jones, the USDA has been responsible for the assurance that all meat products going into interstate commerce are wholesome food, honestly labeled. All fresh and canned meats, cured and precooked meat products, frozen meats or meat dishes, from meat pies and meat and vegetable plates, are inspected.

The labels on federally inspected products, which bear the round meat inspection seal, are required to be clear, out, honest descriptions of the products, he added. If a product contains more than two ingredients, they will be listed in the order of predominance, and imitation products have to be so labeled.

For many meat products, the USDA has set up minimum standards which the products must meet to receive the stamp. Chili con carne, for example, must have at least 40 per cent meat, hash at least 35 per cent meat, and lamb or beef stew at least 25 per cent.

Bringing up a husband is no easy job!

Husbands have to be fed three times a day, and watched over seven days a week, 52 weeks a year. Some of them need to be told when to buy a new suit, when to have a physical check up. They need praise when things go right and sympathy when things go wrong. And almost all of them have to be reminded about making plans for retirement.

It's a good thing a husband's love is worth all the trouble he causes.

Retirement is in the future for all of us. And the sooner we start making plans for it, the happier these years can be. Does your husband have a hobby? If not, urge him to develop one. Does he have a retirement savings plan? If not, encourage him to start one. Good health, outside interest, and freedom from financial worries spell happiness in retirement.

One of the best ways to prepare for retirement is to invest regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds. They're solid as a rock—guaranteed by your Government. They're loss-proof, fire-proof, theft-proof—the Treasury will replace them without charge in case of mishap.

And best of all, U. S. Savings Bonds now pay you higher interest—faster! Every Series E Bond purchased since February 1, 1957, pays you a safe and sure 3½% interest when held to maturity. It pays higher interest, too, in the earlier years, and matures in only 8 years and 11 months.

So now, more than ever, it's smart to save with guaranteed-safe U. S. Savings Bonds. Your husband can buy them regularly where he banks or through the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. But just be sure he starts today!

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

MR. AND MRS. A. O. McCall

A VERY PRETTY home wedding united Miss Maerine Ennis and Mr. Augustus Owen McCall in the bands of matrimony on Tuesday, June 10, at six in the evening. Miss Ennis is the daughter of Mrs. Lura Bryan Ennis and the late Mr. Ennis of Elba.

Mr. McCall is the son of Mrs. Mary Page McCall and the late Mr. Herbert Harper McCall of Elba.

The reception rooms of Dr. J. Bryan Taylor's home provided a setting for the ceremony, which was conducted before an improvised altar at the fireplace.

Cathedral candelabra holding white candles flanked the mantel. Greenery was woven in among the candles and a large cluster of chrysanthemums and satin ribbons was tied in the middle. Fern was knotted into the ribbon streamers that fell to the floor. Palms formed a background and were also nestled at the foot of the candelabra.

In the middle of the mantel was a large arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and feverfew. On the piano were other chrysanthemums and a silver three-branched candelabrum holding white tapers.

The Rev. Murray Seay conducted the ceremony against a background of nuptial music provided by Miss Linda Spurlock, cousin of the groom. Robert Henry McCall, the groom's brother, lighted the candles.

Dr. Taylor served as Best Man. The bride's only attendant was Mrs. J. Bryan Taylor, who served as Matron of Honor. She wore an afternoon dress of soft blue with an all over embroidery of silver metallic threads. The dress was cut on sheath lines and was complimented by a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's brunette loveliness was accentuated by her gown of white tulle, fashion-ed with a rounded collar and short sleeves. The bodice of the dress was heavily self-embroidered and was caught at the throat by a dainty "brooch" made of a single white carnation encircled with glass beads. Her hat was a bandeau of white flowers. A white Bible topped by a large white orchid showered with seed pearls, lily of the Valley, and Maline formed the bridal bouquet.

After the wedding, a reception was held for the guests. A white cutwork cloth covered the dining table, which held a silver three-branched candelabrum on one end and the wedding cake on the other. A nosegay of white mums and fern was fastened to the base of the candelabrum with wide satin ribbons, the ends of which extended across the table to the front corners. The dainty leed cake was placed on a footed pedestal. Serving the guests were Mrs. Kirk Alfred of Pensacola, Fla., Mrs. Fulton Spurlock and Mrs. Shirley Carpenter of Elba.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ennis wore a dress of navy blue banded in white at the neck and sleeves. Mrs. McCall chose a black summer sheer with a flat bow at the V-neckline. Mrs. M. A. Owen, the groom's grandmother, wore black with a white lace collar. All the ladies wore corsages of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. "Gus" McCall are now making their home in Norfolk, Va., after a short honeymoon trip. Mr. McCall is with the U. S. Navy.

AND ALL THE FOLKS have gone to North Augusta, South Carolina, to be with Will Harper on the occasion of his wedding. Flossie left the Sunday before the "big day", taking with her a trousseau of lovely dresses for the many, many luncheons, teas, and morning parties planned for Will and "Tinka".

On the following Thursday, Misses Lallie and Vivian Harper, Fred, John and Fred Sr., drove to North Augusta. The Elba men in the wedding, Buddy Whitman, Foy Blue, and Sam Young, also left at this time as they were to attend a dinner party before the rehearsal and a large party afterwards on Thursday night and a groomsmen's luncheon on Friday at the Country Club.

Tinka's aunt was giving a luncheon for the bridesmaids at the beautiful Augusta Country Club and the bride's mother was so thoughtful as to entertain in Flossie's honor on Monday.

Heidi, Sara Beth and the Rev. Seay drove from Newman, Ga., on Thursday as Rev. Seay assisted at the ceremony.

A LAST GATHERING of young ladies before Carolyn Deal became "Mrs." was held at Margaret Smith's home on Thursday at nine-thirty in the morning, when she entertained for this popular bride-elect. A color scheme of green and white was carried out even in the delicious pastries served. As Margaret is famous for her baking we know these pastel pastries were a real treat.

The house looked lovely with large bowls of daisies and small arrangements of daisies on low tables. A gift of linen was presented to the bride by the hostess.

Guests included Linda Johns, Judy Larkins, Nancy Carney, Sue Morrow and Carolyn, who were a rose colored chemise.

AL FRESCO PARTIES are all the rage and the one at Syble and Bryan Taylor's last week was especially nice. What with Syble doing the planning and Bryan the cooking, it would have to be a success.

The party was a farewell gathering in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Harvel, who are leaving Enterprise soon. It also served as an introductory note to June and Phil Hamlin. Phil has just graduated from Veterinary School, and moved here with his attractive wife.

The guests included Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith of Louisville, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Miligan of Montgomery, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Miller of Enterprise, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Miller of Dothan and Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Gantt of Andalusia.

Fluorine should probably be classed as an essential in the diet because there is overwhelming evidence that it increases resistance to tooth decay.

"It's wonderful for a girl to get a Bachelor's degree—but she'd rather have a bachelor!"

My voice shalt Thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning I will direct my prayer unto Thee.—(Psalm 5, 3)

Each morning that God grants us is a new opportunity, new beginning, new life. If we choose to make it so, it should begin with prayer, thanking Him, seeking His presence, His love, His will—and then we will enter into the new day strong, confident, and blessed.

Three ladies speak for themselves and suggest how Savings Bonds can help you and your family

All of the state winners in the 1957 Mrs. America® Contest were asked how they felt about U. S. Savings Bonds. Here are some of their answers. Which one comes closest to your reasons for investing in Bonds?

"We are regular purchasers of U. S. Savings Bonds. They will provide for college education for three children, security for retirement, and future emergencies."
—Mrs. Virginia Bream, Glenview, Illinois
Mrs. Illinois

"Matured U. S. Savings Bonds enabled us to purchase our home. My family receives stock dividends in Bonds. And our children's birthday gifts are Bonds."
—Mrs. Marcia E. Desay, Wilmington, Cal.
Mrs. California

"No one can afford not to save. A little savings soon adds up to a lot. The U. S. Savings Bonds we purchased were the solution in several family emergencies."
—Mrs. Mary C. Eytke, Butler, Pa.
Mrs. Pennsylvania

If you're one of today's efficient, young Mrs. Americas, you undoubtedly take an active interest in your family's future financial security. Remember, one of the best ways to do something about it is to encourage your husband to start investing regularly in Savings Bonds today—either on the Payroll Savings Plan or by regular purchases at your bank.

OUR FRIEND THE QUAIL

By T. M. Stroud

During the past two years, the Alabama Conservation Department has placed several hundreds of quail in Coffee County and the results are very noticeable by the number of these birds seen while driving along country roads.

These perky fellows can be seen along the roads much more regularly than a few years ago. The restocking has been done so skillfully that every community in the county has some of these birds.

Unlike many birds, quail like to range close to people. There are several reasons for this. One reason is that animals and birds that prey on quail are shy of people, therefore, they get a measure of protection when they range near people. The main reason, however, is food. These birds eat insects, but they must have some grain and during the winter months, grain is their only food. If there is no grain in a particular area, they will migrate to
